Yellow warning
Wind

Between 03:00 Sun 13 Mar 2022 and
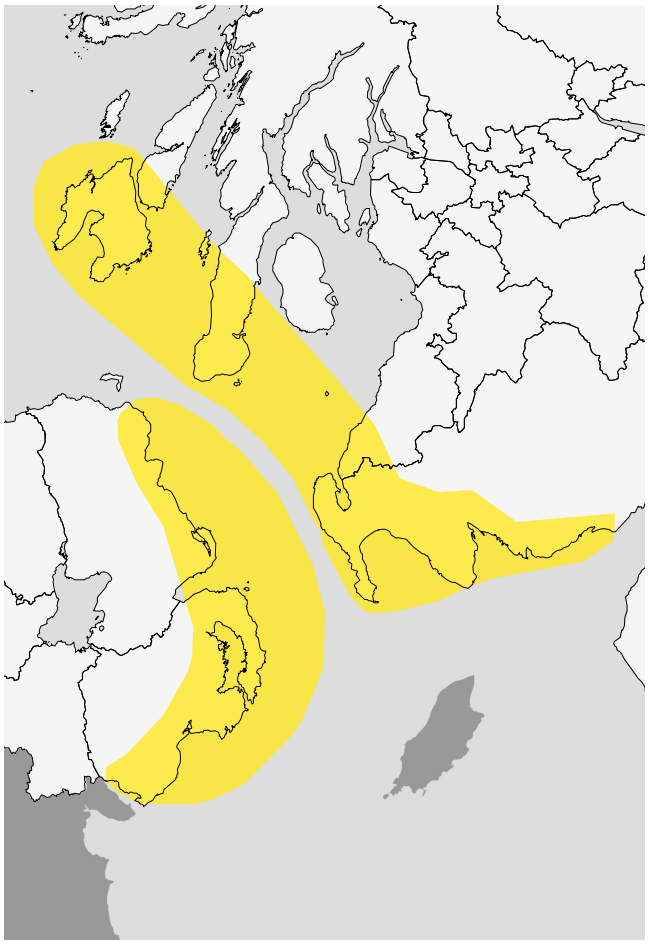
14:00 Sun 13 Mar 2022



Strong winds may cause transport and coastal disruption

What to expect

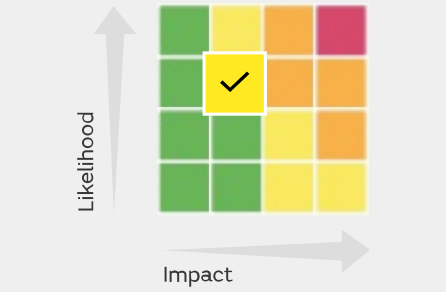
- Delays for high-sided vehicles on exposed routes and bridges likely
- It's likely that some coastal routes, sea fronts and coastal communities will be affected by spray and/or large waves
- Probably some bus and train services affected, with some journeys taking longer
- Some delays to road, rail, air and ferry transport are likely

Further details

A swathe of strong winds are likely to track up the Irish Sea through Sunday.

Winds may reach 50-60 mph along mainly coastal districts, with the core of the stronger winds tracking northwards through Sunday over the region. A small chance of winds exceeding this, possibly reaching severe gales along more exposed coastal regions with winds reaching 65 mph.

This may lead to some poor coastal conditions and transport disruption.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
